

In view of the ongoing community spread of COVID-19 in Western Australia, Civic Legal continues with restrictions on access to its physical office for the time being.

This means that meetings will be held by telephone or video conference, where possible, so please contact us to organise that for you.

Where meetings are held in the office, please note our conditions of entry, which are as follows:

Do not enter if you:

1. are feeling unwell or are experiencing symptoms, however mild, or you have taken medication to mask the symptoms;
2. have tested positive to COVID-19 in the last seven days;
3. have been a close contact of someone with COVID-19 in the last seven days; and/or
4. are awaiting the results of a COVID-19 test.

If you enter you must use hand sanitiser and keep a 1.5m minimum distance from others, where possible.

We have taken this proactive step as part of our strategy of reducing the risk of exposing our clients, visitors and staff to COVID-19.

Our commitment to excellent and responsive client service remains unchanged, as our staff are well used to working from home and conducting meetings by telephone or video link.

Please feel free to contact me if you wish to discuss any of the above.
